AREAS OF EXPERTISE

SALVAGE SUPPORT

MARINE CONSULTANCY

SALVAGE AND EMERGENCY RESPONSE

Marine Masters' track record counts more than 250 salvages. We regularly work for P&I clubs, underwriters and shipowners. Marine Masters have provided assistance in numerous emergency response activities, wreck removals, towages, ship to ship transfers and other offshore projects.

Our service can be tailored to precisely match your needs and typically includes:

- Hull modelling
- Rapid emergency response advice on stability and structural strength
- 24/365 availability to give real-time support at the incident location

Special Casualty Representative

Marine Masters regularly act as Special Casualty Representative during salvage operations and wreck removals. As such, our professionals can be relied upon to protect the interests of owners, hull & machinery insurers and P&I clubs in salvage situations.

Salvage Master for Salvage Operations and Wreck removal

Our Salvage Experts have experience operating as Salvage Masters, Officers, Supervisors, Engineers and Naval Architects. We can either assemble a complete team, or complement your existing team.

Naval Architect supporting Salvage Operations and Wreck Removal

Our naval architects have extensive experience with calculations and structural analysis in support of salvage operations and wreck removals.

Expert advice and review of claims

Marine Masters offer Expert Witnesses services for arbitration proceedings. Our expert witnesses are skilled in the art of providing oral and written evidence which is clear and understandable. They have the capacity to articulate the complexities and technical issues of each case, based on extensive industry experience and knowledge.
